Patrol Blames Traffic Deaths On Lawbreakers

The California Highway Patrol said yesterday that successful operation of its special enforcement units has proven once again that traffic accidents are caused by law breakers.

The units, squads which move into areas with had accident records and concentrate on enforcement, leaving accident investigation and other routine matters to the area's regular patrol force, have achieved these typical results:

Fresno—Injury accidents reduced one-third in a 20-day period.

Martinez—Injury accidents reduced more than 50 per cent in a 20-day period.

Sacramento—Total accidents reduced from 39 to 20, almost 50 per cent, in a 15-day period.

Stockton—Total accidents reduced 35 per cent, persons injured 17 per cent and deaths 75 per cent in a 21-day period.

Patrol officials said in some areas the accident rate shot back up when the squad moved elsewhere, but in others, public cooperation had helped keep the rate low.

Salvation Army Needs All Items Of Clothing

Needy and handicapped men—many of them lacking sufficient clothing to keep them warm—daily are thronging the Salvation Army Social Service Center here seeking food, shelter and jobs, according to Brig. Ranson D. Gifford, manager.

Because of the vast amount of direct family relief it has provided, the center is running very short on many items—especially clothing, shoes, furniture, bedding, covers, rugs, dishes and home appliances Brig. Gifford said.

"We are more than willing to meet the exceptionally heavy demands made upon us for all kinds of relief, but the only way we will be able to meet the continuous and mounting demands is for local citizens to send in salvage items," the Salvation Army leader said. "The Social Service Center is as near as your telephone. A call to 3834 will bring a Red Shield truck to your door."

Brig. Gifford emphasized that the Salvation Army is a non-profit organization which has given unbroken service to the needy, without regard for creed or color, for 88 years.

By providing for men who otherwise would be required to seek county or state aid, the center's social rehabilitation program helps to lessen the tax load, Brig. Gifford pointed out. In 1952 the center gave 258,000 hours of occupational therapy, 59,622 meals, 21,110 lodgings and a vast amount of direct relief.

In addition to this "routine" service, the Salvation Army stands ready to help in any emergency, Brig. Gifford said. Last month the Salvation Army provided around-the-clock canteen and evacuation service for nine days in the disaster created by battering waves at Redondo Beach.

During the emergency, Salvation Army workers served 40,000 cups of soup, coffee and chocolate and 10,000 doughnuts, sandwiches and sweet rolls. Redondo Beach officials gave the Salvation Army high praise for its work.

Three New Members Inducted Into Lions

With the addition last week of three new members, the roster of the Torrance Lions Club now stands at 62 members, according to Fred Boren secretary.

Joining the ranks of the local service club were: Ron Bishop, a city engineer; Al Corwin, optometrist; Paul Smith, owner of the Torrance Desk and Office Equipment Co.
